

As the curtain falls and we take our bows, we prepare to become the writer, director and producer of our own lives. The time we spent at Pratt has been unique. Frame by frame, we developed new ideas, innovative minds and the ability to achieve success.

This book captures the Pratt experience and invites you to play back through your time here. Rewind through the school's history, facts and fiction. Pause on the cast of characters that surrounded you. Record any thoughts, memories, notes and numbers that you wish to keep. Roll the credits and break a leg as you begin the next act.

THANKS

KATHLEEN CREIGHTON You are a goddess!

SARINA O'BAR & JOE SACARIDIZ

JOE ROBERTS For always fighting for us.

MICHAEL KELLY For your attention to detail.

EMMA LEGGE For your optimism, especially during pregnancy (congratulations!).

MICHAEL MCGINN For being a mentor and pushing us forward every Tuesday at 8:15 am.

MICHAEL GERBINO For your knowledge, connections, time, advice, support and critique.

PHILIP & THERESA You are the silver lining on cloudy days.

ANTHONY WILLIAMS For the contacts and inspiring us yet always keeping us grounded.

CHARLES GOSLIN For shoving us out on a limb.

ALL THE DEANS AND CHAIRS (The ones who were gracious enough to help and not hinder us)

DAVID SULLIVAN For compiling the list of graduates (multiple times).

BEVERLY & CONRAD For the wealth of information.

LENNY TSO For the steamy video stills.

RAD ROUBENI For the German translation.

SMITHA ALAMPUR, ABBEY BRADEN, The photo shoots would not have been possible without your expertise LUCY CUMMINS, JILLIAN JOHNSON, and assistance with lighting, equipment and crowd control.

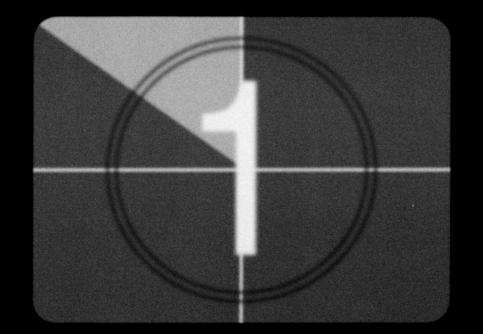

RYAN MONTGOMERY,

SPECIAL THANKS

SMITHA ALAMPUR, JILLIAN
JOHNSON, MATTHEW MCNERNEY
ABBEY BRADEN/KAREN MADSEN

Not only for your support, ideas, and assistance with all aspects of this project, but for four years (and counting) of dedicated friendship. -SG
You are a rock star!/Your continuous encouragement gave me wings to fly. -KT

ALL OUR FRIENDS & FAMILY For your constant moral, spiritual, (let's not forget financial) support.

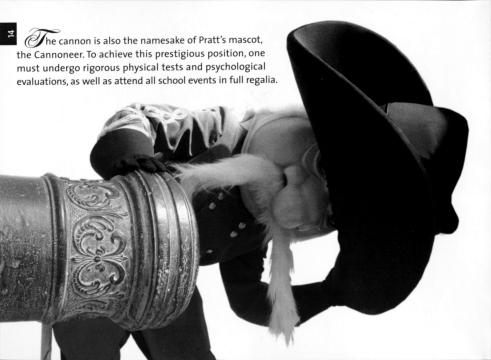

When Dekalb Hall used to be a men's dormitory ekalo Hall used to that when a virgin walked past the cannon, it would go off to alert the boys inside. Last one to the virgin is a rotten egg! The cannon is actually from the Spanish American War, and was brought to Pratt in 1899 from Havana, Cuba.

Our very own designated New York
City Landmark, the Pratt Library was built in 1896 and was the first free public library in the city.
The intricate interior designed by Tiffany includes the central marble and brass staircase and the glass floors.

In the 70's, Pratt's library was rented out as a space to film a documentary. Unbeknownst to Pratt officials, the filmmakers were actually documenting the sexual escapades of Debbie and her "virgin" cheerleader friends as they romped through the Library, the ARC and Fort Greene Park. When the porno hit the shelves, there was a brand spanking new image of Pratt.

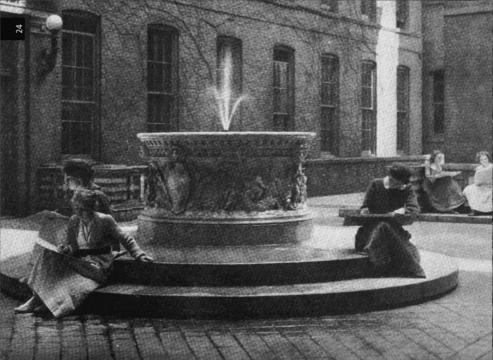

campus? The restoration of the main building is becoming as historical as the building itself. Hopefully by our ten year reunion the renovations will be complete, sans scaffolding. he lawn area behind the library known as Pratt Beach is where students suit up during warm weather to catch some rays. Although there is no water or sand, Pratt students settle for the sun alone, and use their vivid imaginations to create the rest.

Ossibly from the 1600's, the large Italian marble fountain was originally a wellhead. Pratt purchased this sculpture in 1900 and since then, it has served as a centerpiece for outdoor activities. While in the courtyard, eat, drink and be merry, but make sure to brown bag it.

Ithough the top floor is scattered with meow mix, the heart of the engine room exemplifies Pratt's visionary status. Built in 1887, the engine room provided Pratt with one of the first electrical power sources of the time, while most of the city still relied on gas. Electrical generators became common shortly thereafter but Pratt's is now one of the only survivors of its kind. In its original form, the engine room still provides heat and hot water to the campus.

Contrary to popular belief, the tunnels underneath Pratt Campus were never used as underground walkways, nor was there a subway running below us. They were simply built to carry pipes and electrical lines from building to building.

But watch your step on Halloween night... students have been known to go missing when the spirits of an ancient insane asylum begin to stir.

ratt used to offer several unique physical education classes. There was once a bowling alley in South
Hall, fencing in the gym and horseback riding in Prospect Park. These activities are part of Pratt's past, and luckily so is this athletic cheer:

Rah! Rah! Sis Boom Bah!
We are the girls of the Institute.
We don't smoke and we don't chew,
We don't go with boys who do.
Knit one, purl two,
Drop the stitch, boo hoo!

ratt is movin' on up (to the west side). From the modern windows (don't even think about opening them) to the fancyschmancy new designer furniture, the West 14th street building is all ours. Because this is such a recent addition to the Pratt family, the memories of Prankster Puck and our former Manhattan home are still fresh in our minds.

"If you're working, you're getting better – you're getting somewhere.

If you're doing nothing, you're not."

Charles Goslin is a highly accomplished graphic designer and has been teaching at Pratt since 1966. He has mentored countless students and inspired them to achieve beyond expectations.
